Creative, dynamic, and versatile producer/director with over 15 years of experience delivering high-quality content across a wide range of unscripted genres—including reality, factual, features, food, survival, and studio. Whether leading crews or self-shooting, I bring a sharp visual style and strong storytelling instincts to every project. I'm confident across all stages of production, with a solid grasp of post, technical know-how, and extensive experience in challenging environments. I'm also highly organised, with a strong track record in planning and logistics—ensuring smooth, efficient shoots whether working with high-profile talent, filming in remote locations, or managing sensitive access.

I thrive under pressure and bring heart, depth, and clarity to every story I help tell.
